I do want to take this chance to plug a granulator though. GETECHA...Have Y'all seen these things? Man they are awesome. A granulator that CANNOT be jammed....Thats right it will not Jam. I personally filled this grinder throat up completly with Polycarbonate runners. The sprue was .312 dia. The grinder was off I turned it on expecting to hear that all too familiar screech of slipping belts. Instead my ears were soothed by that crushing grinding sound of runners being reduced to consistant regrind. I was amazed so I turned it off right in the middle of the munch and turned it back on. No screech it merely started where it left off and finished the work.

Yeah but what about price ya say? Well folks how about less than a Cumberland or Rapid of the same size. I dont sell em so dont call and ask me for one...I know the fella that does and can put ya in touch with him if ya like, E mail me I will send you the contact info.....:)

TWO winners this year already way cool experimenting with sprue pickers next I will let Y'all know. Notice I dont post on failed try outs...:) Only on those that produce results as promised.
